FISH BOWL CASINO

All guests will be offered an opportunity to play either fun Blackjack, Texas Hold'em, Roulette, and Craps. Guests will be given funny bucks. As guests enter the games they will exchange their funny bucks for poker chips to play the games and a way of keeping score. The games will continue for three hours allowing all invited guests a chance to win additional funny bucks. At the end of the agreed playing time, the funny bucks will be exchanged for attendance prize drawing tickets. This is where the fish bowls come in, guests exchange each of their funny bucks (500 dollar bills and casino chips for drawing tickets. Each 500 in funny bucks and chips equals one prize drawing ticket. Players starting with 2,000 in funny bucks can cash them in for four drawing tickets even if they do not play any of the casino games. Other players playing the games could double or triple the amount of tickets they receive by winning at the casino games.

Guests that have won additional funny bucks playing the games will have more chances to win one of the attendance prizes as they will receive one drawing ticket for each 500 in funny bucks or chips. As patrons redeem their funny bucks for tickets they will be offered the opportunity to deposit half of their two part ticket into one or more of the several fish bowls representing the various attendance prizes.

It only takes one ticket to win any particular prize. Everyone has a chance to win something and guests that do not choose to take part in the casino games will still be able to exchange their original funny bucks for drawing tickets. It is recommended that one in ten guests win a prize, if your party has 200 guests you should be planning on offering twenty fish bowls representing various prizes.
